So unmediated for one more week

Well, now you know why you're kind of irrational. You know the problem, so just fight it.

Right what

Right

I have to be up at 5 to do Sophs hair for picture day. I'll try to be on tomorrow to talk more if I can. I love you, girl - just keep swimming

I love you toon

I'll try to stay rational tonight for you but no promises

And just no calling authorities

Does it not make you feel better to know you're not alone in feeling this way?

It does

It's why I meaaagwd you

I mean... my kids are what keep me going

My faith is first and foremost what keeps me going.

I don't know if you're into Jesus or if you are a believer. I don't like to shove my faith down people's throats.

I'm not extremely religious no

When I'm at my lowest, I know that there is something good coming soon. I have hope in the future

When I'm being broken down by life, I always come out stronger once the struggle ends

I see. If I had any spare money, I would send you some in a heartbeat

I know it's hard

You don't need to

I get paid Friday

I know, but I would

I just can't handle all the thoughts

Also, I bring my problems to God and leave them with him

And I'm praying this week that I can get my meds

I haven't had them since the 11th

Too expensive?

Do you have any insurance?

I qualify but no 🙄

How do you do it alone

I mean. Michael is here on Saturday and Sunday, but often he's gone 8-14 days at a time

I'm "alone" but I still have a support system. You need to find an honest friend, like me, who is close by you. One who can take the time to talk you down and won't make their own issues more important than your current struggle

I've got none
